Commodore's Report 2018/2019

Life Members, George, Ian, Butch and Ali.
A big thank you to our committee this year :
Mark T, Owen R, Liz W, Heath R, Tony Kerr, Gavin H, Dave B, Charlie B, Warrick A, Darryl
M, Mike T, Chris S, Jake W.
Club has 141 members this year, 4 life members.

Sponsors are a big part of surviving as a club
and we are very ,very lucky to be well supported in this area, so a very big thank you to the following.

Hunt N Fishing Masterton
Boat shed autos Masterton
Hire shop Masterton
Auto electrical Masterton
King and Henry Masterton
Tumu ITM Masterton
Anderson Hill Farm
Valley Plumbing
Pukemanu Tavern

Please support our sponsors when you can.

Weighmasters, Brendan and Liz Walker, a massive thank you for all your effort during the year and another great job done.

Riversdale challenge: Unfortunately due to weather we had to postpone on 3 occasions.

Ngawi Big 3: Our club members had a great weekend with as many as 10 of them collecting prizes in the major prize giving on the last day, we also won the Gloat trophy again this year even though Ngawi put their best team forward for years.

Pukemanu Hunt n fishing open: Very well supported given the weather conditions, No fishing but a lot fun was had.

Take a kid fishing: Thanks to Tony, Owen and Liz for taking 23 local primary school children fishing over in Plimmerton with another great day on the water, well supported by the warehouse Masterton.

Coromandel Club week: 9 boats with 28 crew spent the week in March fishing in and around Coromandel which ended up with a challenge with the Locals for the north versus the south Trophy. We out fished them 2 to 1 which is a great effort and made for the brilliant end to a club week.

Club Tractor: Has been very well looked after By Ron, George and Heath this year, thank you to all of you for your continued support there, we are currently receiving prices to have the wheels and rims tidied up over the winter and a paint job is on the way for "Hutch" as well.

Club Members out and about:

This year we had boats fishing all over the north island, with members landing black marlin, striped marlin, Mahi Mahi, Snapper and King fish, few even ventured to the far south to fiord land; so great to see we get out there and do it.

Members contact details: Please notify Liz Warren if you have had a change of phone number or email address.

Newsletter: Mark Telford You're the Man, another great year with the newsletter and we are the envy of most other clubs when it comes to newsletters, thanks very much.

Let me finish by saying thank you to everyone, whether you're a member, a sponsor or a volunteer to the club, because without all of you we couldn't keep going.

Proud Commodore
Gary Warren

Marty Johnson wasn't happy he had to wait over a year for his operation & then to be given a foreign part was just too much!

- A man called his mother in Florida, "Mum, how are you?"
- "Not too good," said the mother. "I've been very weak."
- The son said, "Why are you so weak?"
- She said, "Because I haven't eaten in 38 days."
- The son said, "That's terrible. Why haven't you eaten in 38 days?"
- The mother answered, "Because I didn't want my mouth to be filled with food if you should call."

In 1986 the QMS was a radical experiment designed to reduce excess fishing capacity and control commercial catch, to rebuild severely depleted inshore fisheries. Perpetual shares in each stock were handed out. Assurances were given that people who controlled these new found riches, the Individual Transferable Quotas, would exercise husbandry on the basis that it was in their long-term interest to nurture the fishery. Rural and coastal communities were hit hard when their local fishermen and fishing companies were bought out by larger interests. Fishers then had to compete for annual catch entitlement (ACE) on the open market. This clear felling of the industry inevitably led to the corporatization of fishing, where quota owners now take most of the profit for their investment without getting their feet wet. The financial and personal risks are taken by boat owners and crew who are at the mercy of market prices, fuel prices, deemed value penalties and Mother nature. Amongst this tangle are the aspirations of Maori and coastal communities who want more say in how their local fisheries are managed, and the increasingly vocal recreational and environmental advocates who aspire to having more abundant fisheries and a productive marine environment. There are so many issues that need to be unravelled. LegaSea wants an independent Commission of Inquiry into the recent dumping allegations made in the Simmons report, and a comprehensive review of the Quota Management System.

A former Sergeant in the Royal Marines took a new job as a high school teacher. Just before the school year started, he injured his back. He was required to wear a plaster cast around the upper part of his body, but fortunately, the cast fit under his shirt and wasn't noticeable.

On the first day of class, he found himself assigned to the toughest students in the school. The smart-Alek punks, having already heard the new teacher was a former Marine, were wary of him but he knew they would soon start testing his discipline in the classroom.

Walking confidently into the rowdy classroom, the new teacher opened the window wide and sat down at his desk. When a strong breeze made his tie flap, he picked up a stapler and stapled the tie to his chest.

There was dead silence.

The rest of his teaching year went very smoothly.

The Quota Management System: the sustainable depletion of our fish stocks

- 100 entities own 90% of all quota shares.
- Over 90% of all fish caught in New Zealand waters is harvested by commercial fishers.
- 400,000 tonnes of total allowable catch recorded per year is taken commercially.

- Just 3% of total allowable catch from New Zealand waters is due to recreational fishing.
- Thousands of tonnes of fish are exported for less than $3 per kilo, with no added value to New Zealand.
- 'Sustainable' catch limits defined as 20% of original biomass when 40% is the management default (with a few exceptions in the Fisheries Act).
- As at 2019, 56% of the targeted fish stocks are NOT scientifically assessed.

Try reading this twice & let these facts sink in to the old grey matter:

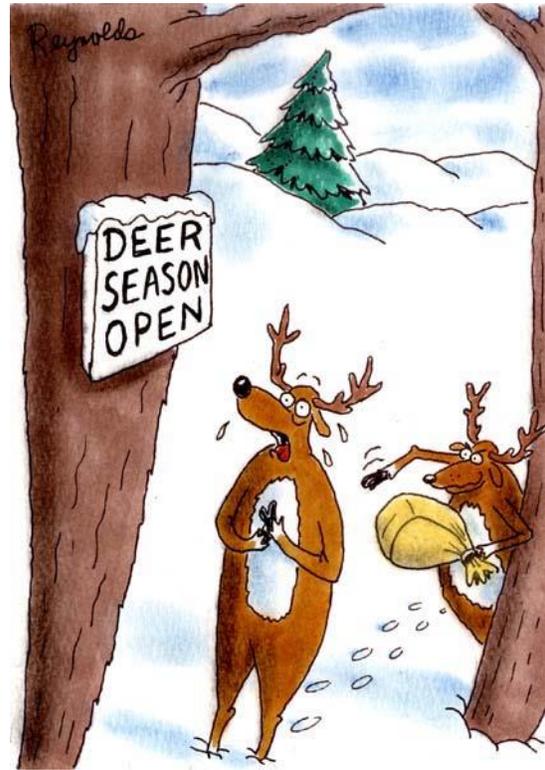

What is wrong with these figures? Are they fair? Is this what we as Kiwis deserve to be dished out because the Big companies pull the strings to make the government do what they want?? Is this the way the QMS was supposed to work? I think not! WHERE TO FROM HERE? Ed.

Selection of trophies & prizes

Another great AGM at the Pukemanu. I was sober driver this year, (true, no bullshit, Dry July!) anyway, it's the last time I do it. I had Dave Blayney, Paul Catt & Wok Anderson to look after...(try to look after that is.)...I had to endure x8 "1 for the road" rounds Before we left the Puke, then I had to endure another x5 at Ev's Bar in Carterton! They reckoned they were only paying me back for the previous times I have pulled the same stunt.....utter rubbish, I do not recall ever playing the "one for the road" card!....just saying ☺
